When I ask teachers what their biggest struggles are, one issue comes up on a regular basis: student motivation. You are able to reach many of your students, but others are unreachable. No matter what you try, they have no interest in learning, no interest in doing quality work, and you are out of ideas.

We no longer agree about what constitutes human intelligence. The trait traditionally called "I.Q." has been attacked from many directions, but few criticisms have achieved the widespread currency in our schools of Howard Gardner's theory of "multiple intelligences" (such as linguistic, logical-mathematical, musical). To some, multiple intelligences may sound kinder and gentler than ...
