Introduction. When we 'teach' listening in class there is a fairly standard approach, which involves setting the topic, pre-teaching some vocabulary, setting some gist questions, playing the audio, checking the answers and then setting an intensive task (comprehension questions, true/false, complete the table, fill in the blanks, etc).

What Lionni's story captures so effectively is a fundamental insight about learning: new understandings are constructed on a foundation of existing understandings and experiences. With research techniques that permit the study of learning in infancy and tools that allow for observation of activity in the brain, we understand as never before how actively humans engage in learning
