Synopsis The nightmare begins before you sleep . . . James Herbert's Moon follows Jonathan, who fled from the terrors of his past, finding refuge in the quietness of the island. And for a time he lived in peace. Until the 'sightings' began, visions of horror seeping into his mind like poisonous tendrils, violent acts that were hideously macabre, the thoughts becoming intense.

Moon by James Herbert

I am a fan of James Herbert's writing, but it does vary vastly in quality. 'Moon' sits squarely in the middle range of his work and reads almost like a by numbers attempt when compared to his better works. The use of a reluctant psychic as the lead is not a new one, even back in 1985 when the book was published.
