Natural Flights Of The Human

NATURAL FLIGHTS OF THE HUMAN MIND is a beautiful, thoughtful and thoroughly successful novel. Morrall's characters seem and act real; while the foundational events are quite extraordinary, Peter and Doody are just normal people who are lonely and guilty and more than a little afraid of relationships and the future.

Natural Flights of the Human Mind. Peter Straker lives in a converted lighthouse on the Devon coast with a fine view of the sea, two cats, and no neighbors. That's just the way he likes it. He speaks to no one except in his dreams, where he converses with some of the seventy-eight people he believes he killed nearly a quarter-century earlier --...

Plane thoughts. Clare Morrall's Natural Flights of the Human Mind begins with an arresting image and two lonely people. Some novelists start with an idea; others with a character. The first Clare Morrall knew about Natural Flights of the Human Mind, she says, was an image in her mind's eye, of a biplane circling a lighthouse.
